

Dear < Name >

They're all characters who can benefit from something that you'll hear more about in the coming weeks. It's something that can also benefit you, especially if any of the following apply:

- You sometimes need to be in two places at the same time
- You always need to be up to date with current information
- You need to be in touch with colleagues virtually wherever and whenever

These are just three examples of needs that can be met with a solution that's already partially deployed in <NAMECO>. Now, we're asking everyone 'what could you be with UC?'

Regards
